

Security in Recruitment

“Very interesting and enjoyable. I feel I have taken away a lot today.”

Creating a Security Aware Culture

Animal Rights extremism and globalisation of the opposition to the use of animals in medical research through such groups as PETA has made it more important than ever to be vigilant. Having a security aware culture and knowledge of animal rights extremist tactics can help to provide a safe working environment and reduce the impact of these threats.

Agenda's security courses have been delivered to over 4000 people worldwide with excellent feedback, continually updated and designed to meet your needs these courses will support all of your other security based activities. All courses are interactive with the emphasis on effective learning through interaction and fun learning activities.

Security in Recruitment Course

Specifically designed for research facilities the courses review 3 key areas:

Who should attend?

The course is designed for anybody involved in the recruitment process for research facilities, managers, supervisors and HR officers.

What will I learn?

This course concentrates on preventing infiltration by reviewing recruitment and advertising strategies, Red Flag Analysis of application forms/CVs, questioning skills, neurolinguistic programming and body language tips and finally through to spotting an infiltrator. Having profiled 15 recent infiltrations we use “actual” infiltration materials in exercises.
